Temple Of Justice

Maude Cooper, plaintiff in the divorce case of Cooper vs. Cooper, collapsed in the witness chair in the common pleas court room Friday morning about 10 o'clock. Dr. B. F. Humbert was immediately called and attended the woman in the judge's private office. The physician stated that the attack was brought on through nervousness. Mrs. Cooper recovered from the attack shortly before noon and was able to appear in court.

The divorce case of Curran vs. Curran was commenced in the court of common pleas Thursday afternoon and all the witnesses for the plaintiff were examined. A recess was taken in the case Friday morning while the case of Maude Cooper vs. Daniel Cooper was heard. The Curran case was resumed in the afternoon.

In the court of common pleas on Friday morning a divorce was granted Sylvia McIntosh from Dr. Robert L. McIntosh on the grounds of extreme cruelty. The plaintiff was given alimony in the sum of $1,000.

To Set Aside Deed—

Mary Flanagan has commenced a suit in the court of common pleas of Knox county against Elizabeth Brangan for the purpose of setting aside a deed executed by the late Patrick Flanagan, who was 86 years of age. The allegation is made that the said Patrick Flanagan was of unsound mind and unable to execute a deed and that he was influenced in the signing of the deed by the plaintiff in this action. William M. Koons & Sons for the plaintiff.

The Beinhower Will—

The last will and testament of Samuel Beinhower, late of Brandon, has been filed in probate. By the terms of the will he gives to his wife, Maria Beinhower, all his property, both real and personal, and upon her death it goes to his children. Harry T. Beinhower and Mary E. Beinhower. The will was signed August 6, 1910, in the presence of Lewis B. Houck and Charles S. Darling.

SWORD AND MAN COMPARED.

ITALY is celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of her independence this year with two international expositions, one at Turin and the other at Rome. The exposition at Rome is entirely devoted to art, and practically all of the nations of the world have sent some of their treasures. Perhaps the most important event of the celebrations will be the inauguration of the colossal statue to King Victor Emmanuel II, on the summit of Capitoline hill in Rome. This statue will rank as one of the wonders of the world. The monument is a great temple of white marble that serves as a setting for the gigantic bronze statue of the king who brought about the unification of Italy and the restoration of its capital in the Eternal City. The dimensions of the statue are so great that it can be realized only by comparisons. For instance, a man standing on the shoulder can barely reach to the top of the plume which surmounts the helmet, the distance being eight feet. The sword is fourteen feet long and weighs 350 pounds. A man standing beside it looks like a pygmy. Artisans and artists have been working on the statue for twenty years, the cost, which amounted to millions, having been defrayed by popular subscriptions. Nearly everybody in Italy from the king to the poorest peasant gave something to help pay for the monument.

DEADLOCK IS ENDED O'GORMAN MADE SENATOR

Albany, N. Y., April 1.—James A. O'Gorman, a supreme court justice for New York county, was elected the Democratic United States senator in place of Chauncey M. Depew. Senator O'Gorman received 112 votes, while Mr. Depew received 80. Necessary to a choice, 97.

The nomination and election of O'Gorman was brought about by the power of Charles F. Murphy and Francis Lynde Stetson. Senator O'Gorman could not have been nominated or elected without the insurgent vote, which was largely controlled by Mr. Stetson, nor could he have been nominated or elected without the vote which was largely controlled by Charles F. Murphy.

MORELAND WON'T TALK OF PATASKALA MURDER

Newark, O., April 1.—Donald Moreland, alleged slayer of Elsie Hemthorn, has recovered from his drunken stupor, and refuses to discuss the crime. A special grand jury will be convened Monday to consider his case. He is charged with first degree murder.

It is said that a post-mortem examination revealed the fact that the girl had been mistreated before the fatal shot was fired. The funeral of the victim will take place tomorrow afternoon at the family home, three miles north of Pataskala.

Give Women Ballot.

Madison, Wis., April 1.—A conditional bill granting suffrage to women in state elections was passed in the state senate by a vote of 18 to 4. The bill will become a law, provided a referendum provision is favorably endorsed by the people in the coming general election.

CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL CHARGED WITH FRAUD

New York, April 1.—The husky young lads all over the country who have been burning the midnight oil and poring over the text books and examination sheets of the Railway Educational association, through whose aid they are qualifying for jobs as firemen and brakemen on the big railroads, will have to wait a while before they get the jobs promised them by President George H.

Baker of the society, and the manager of the correspondence school run by it.

Baker was arrested by Inspector Parsons, charged with fraudulent use of the mails. It was said that Baker was making not less than $40,000 a year, though it was not of record that a single person had ever obtained a job on a railroad through his efforts.

GET OUT OF DOORS

(Troy (Kan.) Chief)

There is nothing like the pure fresh air and sunlight to give vigor to body and mind. Many persons make a great mistake in remaining indoors and broiling themselves to death all winter beside the red-hot stove. They are mortally afraid of catching cold. The parents imagine that it is their duty to keep children in the house continuously as soon as frost sears the leaves, and to see that the doors and windows are closed and next to airtight, day and night. The parents want healthy and robust children; but they employ entirely the wrong methods. Let the children and everybody else have all the life-giving ozone of the outdoor life possible. The country people have this inestimable advantage over city people, and they ought to be wise enough to make the best use of it. The fresh air is just as necessary in winter as it is in summer.

MADMAN WANTED TO SEE GOVERNOR

Had Big Gun, But Sought Executive's Protection.

Columbus, O., March 31.—Armed with a big new 32-caliber revolver, Guy Rittenhouse of Ostrander, badly demented, created a big scare at the statehouse when he demanded an immediate interview with Governor Harmon.

Rittenhouse appeared in the rotunda of the state house and, when he met one of the capital police, demanded to see the governor.

"I want to see the governor; I must see him!" declared Rittenhouse. "The detectives are after him and they are after me, and I must see him!"

A telephone message to the city prison resulted in Detectives Bergin and Hamer being hurried to the capitol in an automobile. They took the young man into custody and, as they were placing him in the automobile, the revolver was discovered in his side coat pocket.

Police Surgeon Obetz, who examined the man, found him badly demented. He had chewed his under lip until it was bleeding.

He told the police that a type-writer company was after him because he was getting too speedy on the machine and he wanted the governor to protect him.

SENATORS PASS THE LIE

As Result Colorado Senators Will Put on Gloves For Charity.

Denver, March 31.—After passing the lie on the floor of the senate and trying to get at each other, State Senators Hecker and Blakey have arranged, through seconds, to settle their troubles with their fists. The bout will be held in the big auditorium, if the consent of the mayor can be secured. An admission fee will be charged and the proceeds donated to the institution for the feeble minded.

Hecker, who is only 5 feet 2 inches tall, weighs 217 pounds, while Blakey is 6 feet 3 and weighs only 123 pounds. The dispute arose when Hecker, referring to a measure which Blakey proposed, declared the latter was not sincere. Both are Democrats.

Shoots Wife, Woman and Self.

Lexington, Ky., March 31.—George Scott, a negro, shot and killed his wife, Susie Scott, and mortally wounded Emma Rogers, another negro. Scott then mortally wounded himself. It is thought he is crazy.

WHO KILLED YOUNT SCHOOL BOOK BILL?

Governor Harmon Wanders How Such Things Happen.

Columbus, O., April 1.—The defeat of the Yount uniform school textbook bill by the senate last week was exceedingly displeasing to Governor Harmon, who is now to join in the fight to have the Democratic party redeem its pledge by passing the bill.

"I think the bill is a good one," said the governor, "and I wish to give it my indorsement. The people are paying excessive prices for books and the bill offers a remedy. The burden of buying books falls on those least able to bear it, and when they change residence from one county to another or from one township to another they must buy over again."

"What sort of influence can be brought to the legislature to turn votes against such a bill? It would be interesting to know how they work it."

He expressed the hope that the bill will pass. It is to be reconsidered in the senate week after next.

DORMITORY INVADED

Students Compel Fair Co-Eds to Parade in Nighties.

Spokane, Wash., April 1.—Conditions bordering on anarchy prevail at Washington State college as the result of a strike of 1,200 men and women students, caused by a raid on the girls' dormitory in which the girls were dragged out of their beds and forced to parade through the building in their night clothes.

So determined are the students that there shall be no class until the offenders are expelled that they have posted guards at the entrances of all buildings to prevent any pupil from attending recitations. The raid, which occurred Monday night, was "hushed up" by the faculty, but as soon as the students in general heard of it they called a strike.

Denman Thompson Seriously Ill.
Boston, April 1.—Denman Thompson, whose portrayal of Josh Whitcomb in "The Old Homestead" has delighted thousands, is reported seriously ill with heart trouble at his home in West Swansea, N. H.
